MONASH University

AUSTRALASIAN ACTION LEARNING, ACTION RESEARCH CONFERENCE 2020

Discovering the Future Together:

Action Learning and Action Research at Work

Flying the plane while building it:

transitioning to online during COVID-19

Associate Professor Chivonne Algeo, PhD

Sunday 8 November 2020

ALARA — ACTION LEARNING, ACTION RESEARCH ASSOCIATION LTD

BALT — BUSINESS ACTION LEARNING TASMANIA

GROUP OF EIGHT AUSTRALIA

---

Agenda

MONASH University

- Introduction and Acknowledgement of Country
- Productive Failure learning session:
  - Discuss how you have transitioned your work to an online environment
- Sharing our learnings
- Adjusting our approach to teaching and learning during this challenging time

2

Introduction and Acknowledgement of Country

MONASH University

---

Productive Failure learning session

MONASH University

- Discuss how you have transitioned your work to an online environment (30mins)
  - Capture learnings in breakout rooms using Miro: https://miro.com/app/board/o9J_lfpyC8o=/

| Traditional Teaching | Productive Failure |
|---|---|
| Teacher explains how to do something (lecture) | Groups presented with problem/s with no teacher support or guidance |
| Teacher show them what it looks like (demonstration) | Sharing their work with the teacher and each other – their solutions, strategies, and approaches to solving the complex problem |
| Teacher fixes their off-target attempts, to help them get it right as quickly as possible, and reward them for their successes (feedback) | Teacher explains how to approach and solve the problem the "correct" way and assists the students in going back through the problem |

Slide 5

Sharing our learnings

5

Slide 6

Adjusting our approach to teaching and learning during this challenging time…

- Pedagogical framework of the degree and what we were doing before COVID-19
- The use of e-learning tools to support our transition from on-campus to online
- How did it work, and is the plane still flying

6

Thank you

- Questions

- Contact
  - https://www.linkedin.com/in/chivonnealgeo/
  - Chivonne.algeo@monash.edu
  - 0401 993 198

---

"Knowledge is of no value unless you put it into practice."

Anton Chekhov, Russian physician and playwright (1860-1904)

8